

HARTLAND: THIS IS WHO WE ARE

41 Projects Delivered. A Foundation of Trust

In Nigerian construction, reputation is not claimed. It is built.

For Hartland Nigeria Limited, that foundation was laid in 1995 as Hartland Enterprises. Over three decades, we have grown into a leading civil engineering and construction company with a proven record in the design, construction, and rehabilitation of roads, bridges, and other critical infrastructure across Nigeria.

OUR RECORD: 41 PROJECTS COMPLETED

Each of those 41 projects represents more than concrete and asphalt.

It represents a responsibility accepted.

A contract executed.

A commitment honoured.

Trust earned from our diverse employers that have included the Federal and State governments, international organizations and leading private entities.

That is the Hartland story.

It is a story built on technical competence, professional discipline, uncompromising quality, and integrity.

EVERY PROJECT IS A COMMITMENT

Hartland has never abandoned a project entrusted to us. Where challenges have arisen, including contractual or financial issues, we have remained committed to finding solutions, working with our clients and partners, and keeping projects moving towards completion. We value the confidence and cooperation of those we work with and remain committed to the timely progress and completion of all our ongoing projects.

Over the years, Hartland has delivered major infrastructure assignments across Nigeria. We have invested in our people (over 1700 as employees with several others earning income from the company through contractual arrangements), our equipment, and our systems to manage complex projects and deliver infrastructure that connects communities, enables commerce, and supports a stronger Nigerian economy.

But experience alone does not define a company. Character does.

At Hartland, our work is guided by principles that have remained constant for 30 years:

Excellence in execution

Integrity in every dealing

Innovation in our approach

Respect for our clients and the communities we serve

Because we believe:

A contract is a commitment.

Public infrastructure carries a public trust.

And the strongest reputation is earned one project, one site, one delivery at a time.

LOOKING AHEAD

Our record of 41 completed projects gives us confidence in the capacity we bring to every new assignment. It also deepens our sense of responsibility.

Hartland Nigeria Limited remains fully committed to delivering all current projects in line with the specifications, timelines, and standards of our contracts.

We have the experience.

We have the technical capacity.

We have the professional personnel.

We have the organisational discipline to meet our obligations.

We remain committed to our clients.

We remain committed to the communities our projects serve.

We remain committed to building the infrastructure that powers Nigeria's growth.

Because this is who we are.

Hartland Nigeria Limited

Built on Integrity. Driven by Delivery
